Respect at Work: Preventing Harassment and Discrimination Training Course

Introduction

Every employee deserves to work in an environment free from harassment, bullying and discrimination. Such behaviour harms individuals, damages teams and exposes organisations to legal and reputational risk.

This course helps employers and managers understand unacceptable behaviour, prevent it, respond properly to complaints and build a culture of respect.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Define harassment, bullying and discrimination
- Understand legal obligations and company policy
- Recognise warning signs and early indicators
- Respond to concerns and complaints appropriately
- Conduct fair investigations
- Promote a culture of respect

Training Methodology

This course combines short expert presentations with practical exercises, case studies from the Gulf and international organisations, group discussions and work with real templates and tools. Participants are encouraged to bring examples from their own work so that the learning can be applied immediately.

Participants discuss realistic scenarios and practise responding to concerns.

Benefits for Your Organisation

- A safer, more respectful workplace
- Reduced legal and reputational risk
- Higher trust and engagement
- Clear, consistent complaint handling

Benefits for You

- Clear understanding of acceptable behaviour
