Cybersecurity for Boards and Executives Training Course

Introduction

Cyber attacks are now a board-level business risk: ransomware, data breaches and supply chain attacks can stop operations and damage reputation overnight. Regulators expect boards and executives to understand and oversee cyber risk.

This concise programme gives board members and senior executives the knowledge to ask the right questions, understand cyber risk in business terms, oversee investment and lead the organisation through a cyber crisis.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand today's main cyber threats in business terms
- Define the board's and executives' responsibilities for cyber risk
- Interpret cyber risk reports and key indicators
- Oversee cybersecurity strategy and investment
- Lead decision-making during a cyber incident
- Build a culture of cyber resilience

Training Methodology

This course combines short expert presentations with practical exercises, case studies from the Gulf and international organisations, group discussions and work with real templates and tools. Participants are encouraged to bring examples from their own work so that the learning can be applied immediately.

The programme combines briefings on real incidents with a board-level crisis simulation exercise.

Benefits for Your Organisation

- Effective board oversight of cyber risk
- Better-informed security investment
- Faster, better-coordinated incident response
- Compliance with governance expectations
- Stronger organisational resilience

Benefits for You

- Confidence discussing cyber risk at board level
