Employee Resource Groups and Allyship Training Course

Introduction

Employee resource groups and allies play an important role in making inclusion part of everyday working life. Well-run groups support members, inform company decisions and help develop future leaders.

This course explains how to set up and run effective employee resource groups suited to the organisation's culture, and how every employee can act as an ally to colleagues.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Explain the purpose and benefits of employee resource groups
- Set up groups with clear goals and governance
- Run activities that create real impact
- Understand what allyship means in practice
- Support colleagues and speak up constructively
- Measure the impact of groups and allyship

Training Methodology

This course combines short expert presentations with practical exercises, case studies from the Gulf and international organisations, group discussions and work with real templates and tools. Participants are encouraged to bring examples from their own work so that the learning can be applied immediately.

Participants design a resource group plan and practise allyship scenarios.
