First-Time Manager Programme Training Course

Introduction

Moving from being a strong individual contributor to managing others is one of the most difficult career transitions. New managers must learn to delegate, lead former peers, give feedback and manage performance.

This programme gives first-time managers the essential skills and confidence to succeed in their new role, from managing themselves and their time to leading, motivating and developing a team.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, participants will be able to:

- Understand the shift from specialist to manager
- Manage time and priorities as a manager
- Delegate and assign work effectively
- Communicate and give feedback with confidence
- Motivate and develop team members
- Handle common management challenges

Training Methodology

This course combines short expert presentations with practical exercises, case studies from the Gulf and international organisations, group discussions and work with real templates and tools. Participants are encouraged to bring examples from their own work so that the learning can be applied immediately.

Participants practise management situations through role plays and real workplace cases.

Benefits for Your Organisation

- Faster, smoother management transitions
- Better-led teams
- Fewer new-manager failures
